

Creating a simple system for implementing roof top competency

MATALAN

Client vision:

As a trusted family brand, Matalan aim to stay true to their mission of providing outstanding value in everything they do. The Property team at Matalan needed to implement a simple system to ensure that all operatives accessing their roofs are trained and competent. 4see were tasked with developing a training course to suit their needs.

How 4see helped:

We developed a work at height policy for the Matalan business that enabled us to determine how the training was to be best developed and delivered. Following this we implemented a 'Roof Access – Passport to Safety' scheme that required all operatives accessing the roofs to attend a professional training course.

This course ensured that all contractors were fully aware of the legal standards around their activities, at the same as being fully aware of Matalan's individual policies and procedures. The Property team now have a simple yet bespoke system for ensuring competency amongst all of their operatives with access to their roofs across their large property portfolio.

“As the person responsible for the management of all contractors accessing our roofs, the competency and support of 4see ensures that Matalan fully complies with the requirements / responsibilities of the client in relation to all current Work at Height legislation.”

Paul Armstrong, Regional Facilities Manager, Matalan

